FACTS ON THE COST OF PUBLIC EDUCATION IN COLORADO

Chapter I

Foreword

This thesis is the result of a careful study of the amount of money spent per-capita each month for public school education in each school district in Colorado that maintained a school during the school year ending June 30, 1923.

The schools have been separated into four types, one-teacher, two-teacher, three-teacher, and four-or-more-teacher, for the purpose of ascertaining which type costs the most per-capita in average daily attendance. It is generally believed that the one-teacher country school is the least expensive type of school and the only type feasible in the sparsely settled sections of this state.

The statistics presented here are based upon the sixty-three annual reports filed by the County Superintendents in the office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction; upon the various County Treasurers' reports; upon the various State Treasurers' reports; upon the State Tax Commission's records and reports for 1924; upon the records in the State Auditor's Office; upon Prof. C. G. Sargent's report of amount of Smith-Hughes fund; and upon statistics found in the Colorado Year Book 1924. As many of these statistics were gathered by the writer as was possible; the balance were gathered by mail.

A study was made of the school laws of Massachusetts and New York and of several of the states west of the Mississippi and of all the available magazine articles, bulletins, newspaper articles, and books on "School Finance" and notes were taken on the portions that were applicable to the situation in Colorado.

The conclusions and recommendations are based upon the actual findings as revealed by a comparison of the capita-cost of the one-teacher school with the capita-cost of the other types of schools; upon comparison of the capita-cost in the third class districts; upon interviews with the State Superintendent of Public Instruction and her office force; upon interviews with as many county and ex-county superintendents as was possible to arrange; upon interviews with prominent educators and school administrators; upon interviews with experts and near-experts in "School Finance"; upon interviews with rural and city school finance specialists; and upon personal experience as a school director, taxpayer, and teacher.

INTRODUCTION

This study was undertaken with the aim of proving that Colorado is financially able to have "democracy in education" if she will change her unit of taxation, tap other sources of revenue, and eliminate, by consolidation and centralization, as many one-teacher, two-teacher, three-teacher schools as feasible.

That education is a function of the state is a consensus of opinion which has been confirmed by numerous court decisions. Numerous court decisions have also confirmed the principle that a state has the right to tax all the property of the state without reference to whether the owner has or has not children to be educated. We must have "democracy in education" if we are to exist as the foremost nation of the world. We cannot exist half educated and half uneducated, any more than we can exist "half free and half slave".

It is the duty of the state to furnish equal opportunity for an education to all who are capable of receiving an education and to secure universality of education. The state of Colorado is falling down in both, because it does not furnish the same opportunities for an education to the children of the one-teacher school that it does to the children who are fortunate enough to attend a four-or-more-teacher school in a first or second class district.

The problem which confronts us in Colorado, if we are to have "democracy in education", is primarily a financial problem and secondarily a consolidation and centralization problem. The primary problem presents itself under four phases: First, how can we raise more money and at the same time lighten the burden of the general property tax payer; as It is conceded, by experts in finance, that the general property tax has reached the saturation point. The aim should be to keep the tax on general property within such bounds, that no hardship will be placed upon the home owner, owners of small farms, and owners of small businesses, and, not drive invested capital from the state.

The second place is, how can the leaks that already exist be stopped, by introducing better methods of budgeting and accounting in the second and third class districts. A large amount of waste takes place in the districts which maintain the small schools because the school directors lack ability to spend wisely.

The third phase is, how can the public be so educated that it will demand that other sources of revenue such as corporations, incomes, unlicensed businesses, and intangibles be taxed for school purposes. These are sources of revenue that are being tapped in other states for school purposes. Why should the people of Colorado permit them to escape by placing the burden on the man who owns a small home or a dry farm?

The fourth phase is, how can we induce the public to vote an amendment, to the State Constitution, which will provide for a state tax and the tapping of the sources mentioned, on page 4, for school purposes. A state tax for school purposes should have no limit fixed by law. This may sound radical but the conservative State, Massachusetts has such a law and it is working admirably. The valuation of all taxable property in the state is $1,543,211,892 for this year. A five mill levy on this amount of money would raise nine times as much as comes in now from the State Income Fund or $7,716,059.46. (See P 5 Annual Report of the Colorado Tax Commission 1923.)

There was no science of school finance when Colorado's system of schools was established. Colorado's present methods of financing education are antiquated, inadequate, and unfair. It was devised by people who knew little about educational systems and the financing of them. It is a series of compromises patterned after eastern systems with which the framers were familiar without considering whether it would work in a sparsely settled state, such as Colorado was at the time the system was established. However, the system is probably as good as its framers had intelligence to make it. Recent legislation regarding the raising of more money for education has been correctional rather than constructional.

Colorado has not kept abreast of the times in changing from a small unit of taxation to a large unit of taxation for school purposes. Massachusetts changed her system of taxation for school purposes thirteen times before 1906 and has changed at least once since, thereby evolving one of the best systems in the United States because it educates more people for the money expended. In 1920, California adopted a constitutional amendment granting each child in average daily attendance thirty dollars and increased the high school tax to thirty dollars a pupil.

Colorado has no state tax for educational purposes below college, except the matching, dollar for dollar, the Smith-Hughes Fund. The money used in matching the Smith-Hughes Fund amounts to .18% of all the money raised for public education in the State. The State Income Fund furnishes 3.58%. The county may levy a five mills tax on all the property of the county to raise an amount sufficient to pay each teacher seventy-five dollars a month for not more than nine and a half months. The balance of the school support must be raised by the school districts, which in many cases are the least able to raise it.

Many of the third class districts have not sufficient taxable wealth to run a nine-months school, although they may be large in territory. A district's ability to pay cannot be measured by the amount of property it contains but by the income derived from this property. The land in many of the large third class districts and the property in a few of the mining districts are not producing any revenue. A large number of third class districts contain several sections of Government land, which is not taxable.

Chapter III

COLORADO'S PUBLIC SCHOOL FUND.

Public schools derive their support from a combination of two or more of the following sources:- Federal, state, county, district, and private (tuitions). The Federal may be divided into the Smith-Hughes, Smith-Lever, Morrill, Five-percentum, Junior College, Tuition for Indian children, and Forest Reserve, apportioned to each county in proportion to the area covered by the forest. However, the Smith-Hughes and the Forest Reserve (in forty-two counties. See Table II) are the sources of Federal aid considered in this study.

Colorado has eight funds that are used for the support of public schools; two state funds, the Permanent School Fund and the State Income Fund; two county funds, the Old General and the New General; the District Fund; Miscellaneous, tuitions, fines and the like; and two Federal funds, Smith-Hughes and Forest Reserve. In summary, these may be listed under five heads, Federal, State, County, District, and Miscellaneous.

STATE AID:

The Permanent School Fund.

The Permanent School Fund is derived from the proceeds of the sale of sections 16 and 36 of land given by the National Government; from rentals and royalties of mineral and timber land; from fines collected for violation of the safety laws respecting mines (excepting coal mines), metal mills, smelters, Claypits, rock quarries, and the like; from forfeitures of state officers who fail to make reports in accordance with law; from any surplus in excess of $250.00 that remains in the hands of the State Board of Barber Examiners at the end of the year; from forfeitures by rail-ways for violation of the "General Office Act"; from amounts in the hands of the Dental Examiners when same is dissolved (if ever); and from the proceeds of estates left unclaimed for twenty-one years (escheats)." (See pp 80-81 "Digest of Colorado School Laws" Arch Fleming)

The Permanent School Fund, according to the State Auditor's records July 31, 1924, amounted to $7,830,433.99. $7,610,003.71 was, on this date, invested in state warrants of Colorado, bonds of Colorado municipalities and school districts approved by the Attorney General. (According to law, this fund must be invested in Colorado Securities). In addition to the above, Colorado still owns 2,991,689.18 acres of school land. 50,000 acres of this unsold land is underlaid with coal and a large portion is underlaid with oil and oil shale. The Superintendent of the Mineral Division estimates the coal land to be worth $200 an acre. This fund is easily worth $125,000,000 since the surface is worth about $45,000,000.

The Permanent State Fund is administered by the State

Board of Land Commissioners and the State Treasurer. This board is composed of a president, a register, and an engineer whose salaries are fixed by law at $300 per annum. Their business is to invest this fund in Colorado securities. $220,003,002.71 of this fund remained uninvested July 15, 1924.

State Income Fund

The surface rentals of school lands, the interest on deferred payments, and the income from the invested Permanent School Fund constitute what is known as the "State Income Fund" which is available for distribution semi-annually. The amount distributed for the semi-annual period July 15, 1922 was $475,241.41 and for the Semi-annual period January 1, 1923 $423,807.05 making a total of $899,048.46 for the school year 1922-1923. (See table I) This represents interest earned in six-months periods and rentals, the rentals amounting to $201,829.88 of the $899,048.46. (These amounts were taken from the State Auditor's records July 31, 1924.)

Permanent School Emergency Fund

The Permanent School Emergency Fund consists of $40,000, which was set aside out of the State Income Fund, to be held in readiness to be loaned to districts, that, through "unavoidable misfortune or causality" may be in distress. No part of it can be used for building purposes. (Destruction of the school-house by lightning would not be an unavoidable misfortune according to the interpretation of the law).

COUNTY AID:

The Old General Fund-

There are two county school funds, one called the "Old General" the other known as the "New General". "There was a time when Colorado had almost a 'County Unit Plan' in the administration of school finance. Moneys from numerous sources went into the 'County School Fund" which was used in paying school expenses, except buildings, sites, and furniture. The law provided for a county tax levy of from two to ten mills. The county's share of the State Income Fund, and the revenue from fines, etc., swelled the total. This was called the (General Fund). The law providing for the county tax has been repealed; and, as a result, district taxation has become the rule. (P 86 "Digest of Colorado School Laws" Arch Fleming)

The Old General Fund draws its funds from the following sources: (Numbers refer to paragraphs in the Compiled Laws of Colorado 1921)

1. Forfeitures resulting from failure to keep ditches covered and lattice the heads of flumes. (1724)
2. All fines resulting from failure on the part of Officers of Building and Loan Associations to file their semi-annual reports. (2801)
3. All of the penalties collected from railways for failure to plow fire guards (2890)

4. All fines resulting from failure to keep rams herded or enclosed (3146)
5. All fines resulting from violation of the laws for the eradication of disease of stock. (3225)
6. One-half of each fine collected for offering for bounty the pelt of a wolf, coyote, or mountain lion killed outside of Colorado. (3247)
7. The clear proceeds from sales of unclaimed freight if unclaimed after one year from the date of receipt of same by the County Treasurer. (4046)
8. All fines resulting from violation of the act controlling the assignment of wages. (4257)
9. One-half of each fine collected for violation of the laws governing pawnshops. (4826)
10. All of the fines collected as a result of violation of the laws for the accommodation of the public, and safeguarding the inmates of hotels and lodging houses. (5479)
11. All fines resulting from violation of the laws governing the marriage ceremony and the legal preliminaries thereto (5564)
12. One-half of each fine collected as a result of violation of laws against gambling. (6867)
13. All of the fines collected as a result of prosecution of persons setting fires on state lands or the public domain. (6982)

14. All fines collected for violation of the General Election laws. (7848)

15. All fines paid by county officers, court clerks, and masters in chancery as a result of malfeasance, etc., in office. (7985)

16. Except when directed by law to be applied elsewhere, all sums derived from violation of orders of injunctions, mandamus, other like writs, and in contempt of court, and the clear proceeds of all fines collected for breach of the penal laws, and all sum~~s~~ arising from the sale of estrays and lost goods. (8288)

17. Forfeiture by county officers for refusal to keep their records open for inspection as provided by law. ($5.00 per day for each day inspection is refused) (8829)

18. Fines collected from county or precinct officers-elect who shall refuse to qualify. (8839)

19. Such portions of the county's share of the income from the Forest Reserves as the County Commissioners in each county shall decide, except that it cannot be less than five percent in each county.

20. That portion of the State Income Fund that comes to the county as a result of the semi-annual apportionment on the basis of the school census. (Only a few weak counties get any other portion. The law provides that in case the five mill levy does not provide sufficient funds to pay each teacher seventy-five dollars a month, (the deficiency is made up out of the State Income Fund before it is apportioned among the counties in proportion to the school census). (Pp 86-88 "A Digest of Colorado School Law" Arch Fleming)

The law requires the County Superintendent to apportion this fund, the Old General, among the districts the first Monday in January, April, July and October, and, at any other time when the amount on hand justifies making an apportionment. The basis of apportioning this fund is the school census as reported by the District Secretaries for the year immediately preceding the apportionment in July, This is a very unfair method of apportioning this fund because it offers no incentive for large average daily attendance and because the shifting population may be enumerated in two or more school districts.

The law forbids the use of the Old General Fund for buildings, furnishing or erecting additions to school buildings; or for the purchase or improvement of any building, site, or lot, except after the maintenance expenses have been provided for a period of ten months, after which, it may be used for any authorized purpose.

It is not strictly legal for the County Treasurers to place the money derived from this fund in the account with the so called "Special Fund"; yet, they do place it there, after it has been apportioned to the districts by the County Superintendent. It would involve a large amount of useless book-keeping and red tape if this fund were kept separate from the other funds and no harm can possibly come from not keeping it separate from the "Special Fund." However, this fund cannot be placed in the same account with the "New General Fund," because that fund is for defraying teachers' salaries only; and the intent of the law is, that the "New General Fund" should not be placed in the same account with other funds.

The New General Fund,

The New General Fund consists of a five mill levy by the County Commissioners, on all the property of the county, for the purpose of paying each teacher, employed, seventy-five dollars a month for not more than nine and a half months. Each district is allowed one teacher regardless of how small the average daily attendance. If the school census is one hundred, one teacher is allowed for each twenty-five or major fraction there-of and one additional teacher for each forty or major fraction there-of of school census in excess of one hundred. Third class districts which maintain high schools may receive pay for an additional teacher for each twenty or major fraction thereof of certified high school enrollment, but for not more than two additional teachers. This fund, "New General" must be used for teachers' salaries only. It amounted to $4,640,944.10 for the school year ending June 30, 1923.

DISTRICT AID:

District aid is derived from three sources: (1) district school tax levied on all the property of the school district; (2) district bonds; and (3) fines.

Districts may tax themselves for the following purposes:

(a) "Special Tax" required of all school districts, with no limit in the first and second class districts but with a limit of twenty mills in third class districts, to be used in defraying all current expenses and improvements. (This tax may be used for legitimate purposes). (b) "Special District High School Tax" of from one to three mills. (c) Teachers' Retirement Fund". (in first class districts only) not to exceed one fifth of a mill.

Special Fund

The amount of money raised by district taxation is the basis of the "Special Fund" and may be used for any school purpose. The amount raised by district taxation each year must not be more than 10% of the amount raised the preceding year, except by special permission from the State Tax Commission, after it has been petitioned by the County Superintendent, the County Assessor, the Chairman of the County Commissioners, and the School Board jointly.

School district money is paid from either the General or Special Fund only upon warrants drawn upon the County Treasurer and signed by all three members of the local board. If there is a vacancy in the Board or one member cannot be reached, the County Superintendent's signature is necessary for the payment of the warrant. However, the County Superintendent cannot sign for more than one member of the Board.

District Bonds

School districts may vote bonds to the limit of 5% of assessed valuation in first and second class districts, and to the limit of 3.5% of assessed valuation in third class districts for the purpose of building and equipping school buildings, purchasing land or other equipment, and for refunding bonds. There are two types of school bonds, optional and serial. Optional bonds bear two dates; the first is called "optional" and is the date after which all part payments may be made; the second date is called "due" and is the time when the payments must be completed. The date for "optional" payment cannot be less than ten nor more than twenty years after the bonds are issued. The "due" date (the date of maturity) cannot be less than twenty nor more than forty years after date of issue. Serial bonds provide for the payment of a fixed portion of the bonds at regular intervals, the district having no option in the matter. The amount of payment and the date of payment are what ever the district and the purchaser of the bonds agree upon. The interest cannot be more than 8% in third class districts and 6% in first and second class districts.

Teachers' Retirement Fund

Districts of the first class may retire, on a pension, teachers who have been fifteen years in the service of the district and ten years elsewhere and who have reached the age of sixty for men, and fifty-five for women, pension service being optional with the School Board. The maximum limit of pension payment is fifty dollars a month or six hundred dollars a year. Districts may also make provision for the pensioning of teachers, who, after ten years of service in the district, have become incapacitated for further service. There is no age limit for this class of teachers; but, the same amount paid to teachers, who are retired at sixty and fifty-five, is applicable to this class.

The Permanent School Emergency Fund

The Permanent School Emergency Fund was created in 1911 and consists of $40,000 which was set aside by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction from the State Income Fund, before its apportionment to the several counties that year. This fund is to be used for the relief of districts that find themselves in financial distress through "unav~~o~~idable misfortune or causality". No portion of this fund is to be used for building purposes. Loans from this fund can be made to only districts that prove themselves needy, and that such need will continue for one year unless relieved. Not more than ten thousand dollars may be paid from this fund in any one year and warrants drawn upon it must be signed by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, the Governor, and the Attorney General. This fund increases by its own income but that may be increased by gifts or otherwise.

The Budget

Voters of third class districts determine the amount of money needed to maintain their schools for the coming school year, usually at their annual meeting in May, but may determine it in a special meeting. In practice, the Board prepares a list of the items they think will probably be needed and the amount required for each item, and over against this, is set the cash on hand. The difference between these two ~~sides~~ is the amount needed and is termed "the budget". The voters of the third class districts are requested to accept or reject. The voters usually accept it without questioning whether it is sufficient to maintain a creditable school. The Board in the first and second class districts determine the "budget".

The "budget" must be certified to the County Commissioners before the first Monday in November of each school year. In practice, the Board of each school district certifies its "budget" to the County Superintendent of Schools, who, after examination and correction, passes it on to the County Commissioners.

FEDERAL AID:

Smith-Hughes Fund

The Smith-Hughes Fund for the school year ending June 30, 1923 amounted to $45,419.40 and was more than matched dollar for dollar by the one fourth mill levy on the general property of the state. Of this amount ($45,419.40) $18,923.62 was used for Agriculture, $13,196.62 for Trades and Industries, $3,299.16 for Home Economics, and $10,000 for Teacher Training in the three lines of work. "The State of Colorado met each of these three sums dollar for dollar and made an additional appropriation of $10,000 for administration making a grand total of $100,838.80 that was used in the promotion of Agriculture, Home Economics, Trades and Industrial education of less than college grade, and for Teacher Training in the three lines of work." (Quoted from Professor C. G. Sargent's letter dated July 8, 1924)

Forest Reserve Fund

The Forest Reserve Fund for the year ending June 30, 1923, amounted to $116,241.44 and was apportioned to the forty-two counties which contain Forest Reserves, in proportion to the area contained ~~therein~~, Gunnison County receiving the largest portion and Las Animas County the smallest.

Twenty-five percent of the income received from the forest reserves is given to the states in which these reserves lie for the benefit of roads and school by the Federal government. Not less than five percent of the amount received must be spent for each purpose. The county commissioners, whose counties draw this fund, determine how much more than the five percent shall go for each purpose, roads and schools.

Chapter IV
SITUATIONS IN COLORADO

The School District Situation

Table IV shows that Colorado has too many school districts to be supervised by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. There are five thousand seven hundred twenty-nine school directors in the one thousand eight hundred eighty-seven school districts. This large number of schools and school directors create an impossibility for supervision and a great possibility for waste and leaks because of lack of expert supervision.

Each regularly organized school district is a body corporate, by the name and style of "School District No. ...., in the county of .....and state of Colorado," and in that name may hold property and be a party to suits and contracts, the same as municipal corporations in this state. (Section 110 School Laws of Colorado 1923)

Each school district is controlled by at least three school directors. Second and third class districts each have three school directors and first class districts have five or seven directors, depending on the population of the school district.

The School Director Situation

Colorado's school system is actually "bound hand and foot" by her school directors. The five thousand seven hundred twenty-nine school directors have absolute control over the schools and are responsible for kind of schools this state has. The school district system and the minimum length of school term are fixed by the State Constitution.

In second and third class districts, one school director is elected the first Monday in May of each year, the term of office of directors in first class districts is six years. First class districts having a population of 20,000 or more have seven directors, those of less than 20,000 population have five directors. School directors in all classes of school districts are elected by popular vote, same qualifications being required of voters at school elections as are required at General Elections.

District boards in first class districts have power to fill vacancies occurring in the board until next regular election. "All school boards have power to hire or discharge teachers, mechanics, and laborers, and to fix and order their salary paid; fix tuition of non-resident pupils and to fix the salary of the secretary of the district.

All schools boards have power to fix the course of study, the exercises and the kind of text books to be used, rent, repair, insure, build, sell, buy, and furnish school bu$ldings. They have the power to suspend or expel pupils from school who refuse to obey the rules, to determine the number of teachers that shall be employed and fix their salary above seventy-five dollars a month, determine the length of time over and above three (3) months that school shall be kept; fix the time of opening or closing of schools, and for the dismissal of primary pupils before the regular time for closing the schools." (Page 66 "The School Laws of Colorado" 1923)

The Supervisory Officers

The State Board of Education consists of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, the Secretary of State, and the Attorney General. The Superintendent of Public Instruction is president and the Secretary of State is Secretary of this Board. The Attorney General is the only supervisory officer of whom educational qualifications are required. Section 4 Article IV of the Constitution of Colorado, states, "No person shall be eligible to the office of Attorney-General unless he shall have attained the age of twenty-five years, and be a licensed attorney of the Supreme Court of the State in good standing." This board is elected every two years at the General Election.

The State Superintendent of Public Instruction is required to live at the Capital during his or her term of office. She is ex-officio State Librarian, and a member of the following boards:

- (1) President of the State Board of Education
  - (2) President of State Board of Examiners.
  - (3) Trustee of State Teacher's College.
  - (4) Member of the Blind Benefit Commission.
  - (5) Member of the Bureau of Child and Animal Protection
  - (6) Member of State Educational Loan Board.
  - (7) Member of Examining Board of State Teacher's College and Western State College.
- (8) To Expend Fund of Building Educational Institutions.

Her duties are to exercise general supervision over all the county superintendents and schools of the state; to visit annually those counties of the state which most need the help of the state office; to file for future reference all papers and reports from the different counties; to prepare a biennial report to the governor concerning the condition of the schools of the state; to decide all points of law which may be submitted to her office in writing; to prepare blanks and school registers for use in the various districts; to make a semi-annual apportionment of the State Income Fund; to apportion a part of the State Income Fund to counties in which the five mill levy does not produce a sum sufficiently large to pay each teacher the minimum salary required by law; and, to license teachers.

Her clerical and semi-clerical duties are so numerous and her term of office so short that she does not have time to do any constructive work that would tend to improve the educational system of Colorado. She barely gets settled and learns the routine of her office when her term of office expires and she has to plan a political campaign for re-election. The short term of office and the small salary paid are not conducive to obtaining competent people to seek the office.

The County Superintendent is elected at the General Election every two years. No educational qualifications are required of this officer. His or her duties are to supervise all the schools and to visit each school once each quarter; to hold County Teachers' Associations; to obey the instructions of the State Superintendent; to furnish registers and other supplies to the teachers and school directors; to keep a record of all official acts; to prepare an annual report for the State Superintendent; to review the school census; to see that all accounts of the school districts are properly kept; and to apportion funds.

The County Superintendent is the supervisory and the fiscal agent of the county. The County Treasurer receives the money after it has been apportioned to the various districts and pays it out upon warrants properly drawn and signed by the three members of the school board in each district or signed by two members and the County Superintendent.

The County Superintendent, like the State Superintendent, has too many clerical duties to be able to do much supervisory work. The great number of one-teacher schools, in counties large in area like Yuma, Weld, Washington, and Las Animas, make effective supervision a physical impossibility under the present system. The large number of school districts and school directors in each county is conducive to waste because they cannot be watched closely and advised as to the best procedure, regarding the spending of funds, until after they have spent their school district's funds, often unwisely.

School directors do not have to consult the County nor the State Superintendent regarding their expenditures so long as they spend for the things the law permits them to spend; and so long as they do not exceed 105% of the expenditures of the preceding year. This is not fair to the County Superintendent, since she is usually held responsible for the kind of schools in the county over which she presides. The County Superintendent has very little power over school directors regarding spending and hiring of teachers. She can advise but school directors are not obliged to take the advice given.

The Instruction Situation

Table VII shows that there are nearly six times as many one-teacher schools as any other type maintained in Colorado. It also shows that the average daily attendance per teacher, length of term, and salary are less.

Table VII shows that the instruction in the one-teacher type costs more per-capita than in any other type, because of the small number of pupils instructed by each teacher. All but a few are in third class districts. School District No. 1, a first class district in Montrose County, has ten one-teacher schools in addition to a four-or-more-teacher school and School District 6, in Elbert County, has sixteen one-teacher schools. District 1 in Montrose County is the only first class district maintaining a number of one-teacher schools and District 6 in Elbert County is the only second class district maintaining several one-teacher schools.

It is generally supposed and often stated that there is more money per-capita spent in first class districts than in any other class. However, Table VIII, which is the average of all the school districts of the State of ~~for~~ for which statistics were available disprove this supposition and statement.

The Financial Situation

Table IX shows that the Capita-cost of education has increased from sixty-nine dollars to one hundred sixteen, or one hundred sixty-eight percent since 1917. This increase is due to two causes; first, increased school attendance, and second, depreciation of the purchasing power of the dollar. The average mill levy increased from 5.12 mills in 1917 to 11.80 mills in 1923. This seems like an unreasonable and unjustifiable increase. However, an examination of the annual reports of the State Tax Commission for 1917 and 1923 show that taxes along other lines, such as roads, towns, and counties have increased proportionally to the increase in school taxes.

Note: These averages are approximately correct because they are averages of averages.

About 1921 and 1922, the farmer considered this rapid increase in taxes a practical confiscation of his land and was really alarmed about it. He was lead to believe through misinformation and lack of authentic information that the schools were the cause of this rapid increase. However, this alarm is subsiding and upon investigation of a statement often heard, "The farmers are losing their homes because they cannot pay their taxes" was found to be erroneous. They lost their homes because of mortgages and the readjustment from horse power to gasoline power in the form of trucks and automobiles. The only sections in the state in which homes are being sold for taxes are in the metal mining sections in which the mines have been worked out and the camps abandoned. (This information was obtained from answers to questionaires sent to all the County Treasurers regarding their tax sales.)

Table X shows that the annual educational bill is borne by four different units, with the school district, the least able of the four units,<sup>and</sup> bearing the greatest share of the burden; and the state, the unit which should bear the greatest share of the burden, bearing next to the least share of the burden. The valuation of all the taxable property of the state is $1,543,21,892. and a five mill levy on this sum plus the State Income Fund would produce $8,605,108.<sup>52</sup> or one third of the sum used in 1923.

Table XI shows that the cost of instruction is a trifle more than half the money spent for education. This item should be greater and the interest bill should be less than they are. The teachers in the one-two and three-teacher schools are not paid a sum sufficient for them to maintain themselves and improve themselves professionally as required by law.

Table XII shows that the one-teacher school is the most expensive school, when figured on the capita-cost on all the money spent, as a basis, and also when the cost of instruction is used as a basis in figuring capita-cost. In other words the one-teacher school is the most expensive type of school when viewed from any viewpoint.

Chapter V

PROPOSED CONSOLIDATION SCHEME OF LAS ANIMAS COUNTY

This Scheme of consolidation was worked out with the aid of County Superintendent, S. J. Shadel and County Engineer, McCarger. This county was chosen in preference to any other county because of its immense size; and because it contains all the conditions to be considered in a consolidation scheme, such as topography, roads, thickly settled communities, sparsely settled communities, and a people who think that "consolidation" of schools is an expensive luxury which they cannot afford.

This county contains one hundred seventeen school districts, three hundred fifty-four school directors, one hundred two one-teacher schools, eleven two-teacher schools, seven three-teacher schools, and sixteen four-or-more-teacher schools, two of which are consolidated. It is feasible to consolidate this county into twenty-two consolidated and eleven districts containing one-teacher schools with a saving of eight thousand two hundred forty-one dollars a month.

This county transported two hundred fifty high school pupils, some twenty miles, to high school during the school year 1925- 1926 at a cost of nineteen thousand dollars; and seventy-nine grade schools pupils at a cost of one thousand three hundred ninety-five dollars. These costs were used as a guide in computing the cost of transportation in this scheme. However, the estimated cost in each district is higher than the actual present cost, and, in many cases, it may be much too high.

This County is the largest county in the State and contains three types of topography, a high mountainous section, in the western part of the county; a rolling prairie section immediately east of the foot-hills; and a semi-mountainous section east of the prairie section. The greater portion of the population is along the foot-hills, the mining section, and along the portion of the rivers traversed by the prairie section. The extreme Western, all the portion north of Township twenty-nine and nearly all north of Township thirty, and all east of Range 64W is a very sparsely settled country; yet, consolidation is feasible and a saving over the present way the schools are being conducted.

If consolidation is feasible in Las Animas County, it is feasible in all counties outside of Denver and San Juan. All the districts in small counties like Teller, Lake, Gilpin, and Ouray could be consolidated so that each of these counties would contain one school district although each district might be obliged to use more than one school plant.

The maps presented here are illustrative material which show how a large number of districts may be reduced to a few with an accredited high school in several and a nine months term of school in all.

PROPOSED CONSOLIDATION SCHEME
LAS ANIMAS COUNTY

Notes:

An asterisk, * before a district indicates that $389.05, the average monthly cost of maintaining two-teacher schools in this County, is considered the "present cost".

An apostrophe, ('') before a school district indicates that $604.41, the average monthly cost of maintaining three-teacher schools in this county, is considered the present cost.

Quotation marks, ("") before a district indicates that $192.01, the average cost of maintaining two-teacher schools in this county, is considered the present cost.

A small (n) before a district indicates two one-teacher schools in that district with a "present cost" of $384.02.

An exclamation, (!) mark before a district indicates that the location of that district is in a very rough semi-mountainous section of the county.

The word "none" used in describing the kind of road indicates that the roads in this section have not been laid out and graded by the county. However, the people in these districts have passible ungraded dirt roads on which cars are used the greater portion of the year.

Chapter VI

CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Education is costing the tax payers more now than formerly; but they are receiving more for the money expended. The courses of study in the schools now are being so arranged that they give finding or broadening courses. The program of public education as laid down by the statutes of Colorado, has gone far ahead of the legislative minimum which is a term of three months and a salary of seventy-five dollars.

The educational conditions in Colorado are not so bad as is generally supposed; although the "millenium" in education has not arrived. About twelve and a half percent of the average daily attendance is in the one-teacher schools, while seventy-three percent is in a village or city school. It takes one thousand eight hundred fifty-eight schools to accommodate the twelve and one half percent, while it takes only three hundred twenty-one schools to accommodate the seventy three percent.

Four of the one thousand eight hundred fifty-eight one teacher schools had an average daily attendance of one, thirteen had an average daily attendance of two, eighteen had an average daily attendance of three, and three hundred seventy had an average daily attendance of less than ten pupils during the school year 1922-1923<sup>1</sup>.

Maintaining such small schools is wasteful and unfair to the taxpayers and to the children. The taxpayers really pay for private education and the children are compelled to attend a dry uninteresting school because of the lack of other children with which to associate.

The parents should be held responsible for the transportation to and the district held responsible for tuition in another school district in cases where only one or two children are to be educated in the elementary schools. It is well in some cases to pay board for school children when they are few in number; but it has proven unsatisfactory to pay parents for transporting their own children to school.

Uneven distribution of wealth, inequalities of equipment in the different types of schools, unequal salaries paid in the different types of schools, impoverished curricula in the one and two-teacher schools, and lack of helpful supervision, due to the one-teacher schools being scattered over too much territory, are the principal factors which tend to prevent "democracy" in education in Colorado.

Baca, the county which ranks fourth in number of one-teacher schools, eleventh in area, twenty-seventh in population, and thirty-eighth in wealth, is an example of uneven distribution in wealth. This county has no mines of any kind, no coal, mineral, oil, nor timber land, no manufactures, no telegraph lines and no railroads, while the adjoining county west, has all these taxable properties except oil and mineral lands. Yet, these two adjoining counties are members of the same commonwealth and victims of each other's children if they remain unequally well educated. (See "Twelfth Annual Report of Colorado Tax Commission" pp 40-98 and "Colorado Yearbook 1924, p 175).

Greater inequalities of distribution of wealth may be found between adjoining districts within counties than may be found between adjoining counties. Districts seventy-seven and forty are adjoining districts in Las Animas County of practically the same area. (See map Chapter V). The assessed valuation of seventy-seven is $50,790.; while the assessed valuation of forty is $650,890., due to a part of three railroads passing through it and two coal mines operating within its boundaries. Another glaring inequality between adjoining districts of this county (Las Animas) is in amount invested per child enrolled, in the school plant in adjoining districts, thirty eight and fourteen,. Four dollars per child enrolled are invested in district thirty-eight, while one hundred eighty-five dollars per child enrolled are invested in district fourteen. The teacher in district thirty-eight received one hundred twenty-five dollars a month for teaching seventeen pupils, while the teacher in district fourteen receives one hundred forty seven dollars a month for teaching six pupils.

The lax compulsory education law is conducive to waste because of the number of repeaters caused by its laxity. Sec.

11 Art. IX of the Constitution of Colorado states, "Every child of sufficient mental and physical ability, shall attend the public school during the period between the ages of six and eighteen years, for a time equivalent to three years, unless educated by other means." Sec. 266 of "Colorado School Laws states, "Every parent or guardian or other person in the state of Colorado, having the control of any child or children between the ages of eight and fourteen years shall be required to send such child or children to public school or private school taught by a competent instructor for a period of at least twelve weeks in each year, at least eight weeks of which shall be consecutive, unless excused by the school board upon being satisfied that the child's mental or bodily condition has been such as to prevent attendance at school, or that there is no school taught within two miles by the nearest traveled road". Sec. 253 of the same school law states, "Every parent or guardian having charge of any child between the ages of eight and sixteen years, shall send such child to a public, private, or parochial school for the entire school year during which the public schools are in session in such districts, provided, however, that this act shall not apply to children over fourteen years of age where such child shall have completed the eighth grade or ~~many~~ be mentally defective ect.". Sec. 266 applies to parents living in unorganized school districts. Section 253 applies to parents living in organized school districts.

Education is going to continue to increase in cost because of the demand for better education. This demand is leading to a very great increase in school attendance in both elementary and high school, especially in the high school where the cost is greatest. The first class districts are the districts ~~in which~~ <sup>in which</sup> the attendance is increasing so rapidly that the building space isn't sufficient to take care of this increase. The first class districts are the wealthiest districts, yet they are obliged to issue bonds to build buildings to take care of the increase in attendance. If the sources of revenue that remain untapped in these cities which are issuing school bonds were tapped, the bond issues would be unnecessary.

Small attendance and lack of supervision in the large number of one-teacher schools are conducive to much waste. The teachers in the small one-teacher schools have an opportunity to loaf on the job; and many do loaf on the job, because they know that they are not going to be visited and checked up by the County Superintendent more than once a year. A teacher should have sufficient pupils to keep her busy; but not so many that she cannot give each child all the personal attention that he needs! Too many pupils per teacher causes repeaters.

The conclusions to be drawn from this discussion may be summed up in the following statements: Education is costing more but is giving more for the money expended. The educational conditions are not so bad as is generally supposed. Democracy in education does not exist and cannot exist until the burden of taxation is removed from the school districts and placed on the state as a unit. Funds are not apportioned on a satisfactory basis. Too many one-teacher schools with poorly paid and poorly trained teachers, and, with small attendance exist. Consolidation of about two thirds of the one-teacher schools with village and city schools is desirable and feasible. More and better supervisors are needed. A better Compulsory Education School Law is needed. A better standard and up to date system of accounting and budgeting needed. The greatest need of financial relief is in the first class districts due to rapid increase in attendance in both elementary and highschoools. The capita-cost is less in the four-or-more teacher schools and in the first class districts than in the one-teacher-school and in the third class districts. Colorado has sufficient resources to finance one of the best school systems in the United States.

It is recommended by the best thinkers and writers on the financial condition of Colorado's School System, that the state be made the principal unit of taxation and that the district be held responsible for the school plant and its equipment and upkeep. The County should be the fiscal agent only.

The "new methods" raising revenue suggested by Don C. Sowers of the University of Colorado are a state income tax, a corporation tax, a classified property tax, and a severance tax. (Page 11 Financing of Public School Education in Colorado Don C. Sowers) All financial authorities agree that the general property tax is no longer the fairest nor most adequate method of raising school funds. It is agreed by all that corporations, incomes, unlicensed businesses, severances, foreigners, and intangibles should be taxed for the support of public education. Intangibles could be collected upon if the holders were obliged to register their intangibles before they could collect the interest on them.

No more securities which are not taxable should be issued by either the states or the Federal Government.

The Permanent School Fund must be invested in Colorado securities. A part of this fund has already been invested in worthless securities for which it should be reimbursed and the law changed to permit investment of this fund in other state securities as there is danger of the legislature of any state repudiating a debt which it owes to itself.

A district should be permitted to use funds set aside for teachers' salaries, for the transportation upon submitting evidence to the County Superintendent by the School Board that it is cheaper to transport the pupils to another district than to employ a teacher.

A new basis for the distribution of school funds is needed. The present method does not consider the valuation of the district, number of teachers employed, nor the average daily attendance. The Public School Income Fund is apportioned semi-annually in proportion to the number of people between the ages of six and twenty-one years, by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction to the County Superintendents who in turn apportion it to the school districts. No premium is put upon aggregate daily attendance.

No single basis for distribution is considered best but a combination of bases is suggested. A distribution upon the amount the district is capable of producing per capita in aggregate daily attendance, combined with the aggregate attendance, and these bases combined with the number of teachers employed and their qualifications seems to be a fair and just basis for distribution.

The Indiana Plan for distribution is as follows: "At least one half of state support should be distributed on the basis of the wealth back of each child to be educated, as this would take direct account of differences in ability to support schools. Of the remainder, one-fourth should be distributed on the school census basis, representing the total amount of work to be done; one-fourth on the basis of aggregate days of attendance, in order to stimulate the schools to enroll and hold in regular attendance all children of school age; and finally, one-fourth should be distributed on the basis of number of full-time teachers employed, ("Public Education in Indiana, page 263").

California apportions school funds on aggregate attendance basis and teacher employment basis. A certain number of tardinesses is considered an absence. The Indiana plan is the plan suggested for Colorado.

A better system of budgeting, accounting, and reporting statistics is desired by all. Too many untrained and uneducated people compile the budgets, accounts, and reports to have a saving of money, and accurate accounts, and statistics.

Educational requirements should be made for all school officials and longer terms of office for state and County superintendents. There is no reason why District Judges should be elected for six years and Supreme Court Judges elected for ten years and educational qualifications be required, while the head of the most important function of the state, education, be elected for two years, and no educational qualifications required. Education should be taken out of politics. The state Superintendent should be elected for a term of ten years, and the county superintendents for a term of six years at the annual school election held in May. The minimum educational requirement for the state superintendent should be a master's degree, and for the county superintendents, a Baccalaureate degree.

The present defects in the methods of financing the schools of Colorado will exist until the people of the state vote an Amendment to the State Constitution. They should not be too hasty about voting this amendment unless it is worked out by experts in school finance and administration of school funds.

APPENDIX

Chapter I

Average Monthly Costs

This chapter is submitted for the purpose of readily comparing the cost of each type of school with any other type the reader may wish to compare.

The statistics presented here were obtained from Mrs. Bradford's Office and verified by the County Superintendents as far as it has been possible to get them to do so. The statistics on Dolores County were obtained from the County Treasurer of that county.

The averages were found by finding the total average daily attendance and the total cost in each type of school and dividing the total cost by the total average daily attendance instead of averaging the averages. These are verified by Chapter III of this appendix, which is included for the purpose of checking these averages.

This chapter reveals the fact that the average cost in the one-teacher type is greater than the cost in any other type of school in all the counties except Cosilia, Elbert, Hinsdale, Kiowa, Kit Carson, Logan, Park, Phillips, Rio Blanco, Rio Grande, San Miguel, Summit, and Washington.

Ds. indicates district, sc. school, T teacher, and 4-T four-or-more-teacher schools in this chapter.

Chapter 11

CAPITA COST BASED ON COST OF INSTRUCTION

This chapter is included for the purpose of showing which type of school is the most expensive when considered from the view point of instruction although the instruction cost is only 55.5% of the total cost. Many taxpayers are unwilling to endorse consolidation of school districts because of the high salaries they will be compelled to pay in consolidated schools.

The statistics presented in this chapter were obtained directly from the County Superintendents as far as possible which entailed a great deal of correspondence and patiently waiting. The balance of the statistics were copied from the records in Mrs. Bradford's office.

The average costs were obtained in the same manner as were the average costs in Chapter 1. The average salary in each school district was obtained by dividing the total salary paid each month by the number of teachers employed.

The average capita cost is greater in the one-teacher type in all the counties except Conejos, Crowley, Phillips, Prowers, Rio Grande, and Summit. These counties are the counties which do not contain many four-or-more teacher schools. The results of this investigation prove that high salary is not a cause of high capita cost in Consolidated Schools.

Ds. indicates district, sc., school, T., teacher, and 4-T, four-or-more teacher schools.

Chapter III

COSTS AND SALARIES IN THE FOUR TYPES OF SCHOOLS

This chapter is included for the purpose of checking the averages in Chapters I and II of this appendix and also to show how the averages used in the tables were obtained.

It was necessary to spend a lot of time gathering, compiling, and checking the costs, salaries, and capita-costs found in this chapter in order to determine which type of school actually spends the most per capita.

J. Fletcher Swift of the University of Minnesota states in his bulletin entitled "A Study in School Finance, the West, California and Colorado", that education costs twice as much in districts of the first and second class, as in districts of the third class. The averages presented here disprove this statement.
